SESSION III:

Saturday, October 15, 2011 8 a.m. - 12 p.m.

David Boulton, *Children of the Code, Stewarding the Health of Our Children's Learning.

In this segment David Boulton will explore the critical differences between "healthy" and "unhealthy" learning. He will discuss how we can learn in ways that retard, diminish, or disable our capacities for learning and that can result in "mind-shame" – the most wide spread yet least understood disability of them all.

Diane Lyon

How do I help a dyslexic student succeed in school? Diane will share how she effectively implements research into practice, in the classroom and in the home. Learning of her son's dyslexia twenty years ago, Diane speaks from the heart.
